

March 13, 2020 SATs at HHS Message

The SAT scheduled for Saturday, March 14, at Huntingtown High is canceled. Please visit the College Board website for information about test center closures, refunds, and future tests. We will work with the College Board to determine whether we can schedule a makeup date to administer the test at Huntingtown High.

Please note that the College Board is receiving numerous cancellations. The Huntingtown High cancellation may not appear on the website until later.

From the College Board:

Q: What should I do if my test is canceled?

A: You will receive a refund of all registration fees, and you can register for a future test date.

- If your test center is closed, we'll work with local educators to schedule a makeup exam in March. If that's not possible, you will receive a refund and you can register for a future test date.
- The next SAT administrations are planned for May 2 and June 6.
